COVID-19 SOLUTIONS

COVID-19 has challenged manufacturers to embrace new processes. SafetyChain provides three simple solutions to mitigate the pandemic's effect on productivity, including remote supplier audits, personnel screening, and changeover management.

Remote Supplier Auditor

Social distancing measures have forced manufacturers to rethink their approach to supplier audits. While visitor restrictions are in place across facilities and only essential personnel are allowed on site, supplier compliance remains as crucial as ever. Thanks to remote audits, you can inspect and assess supplier risk, compliance, and performance without having to be on-site.
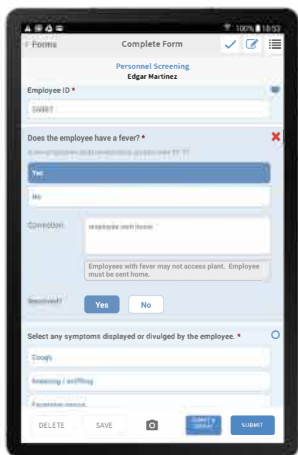

At a glance:

- Share and collect requirements via secure online portals
- Automate task assignments and tracking
- Create compliance scoring systems & dashboards
- Keep sensitive supplier and internal data private with a secure online portal

> Schwan's is dedicated to delivering high standards for taste and quality to our customers, and being able to keep operations like this running smoothly in a time like this is essential to that core value"

Bill B., Director of Food Safety,
Schwan's Company
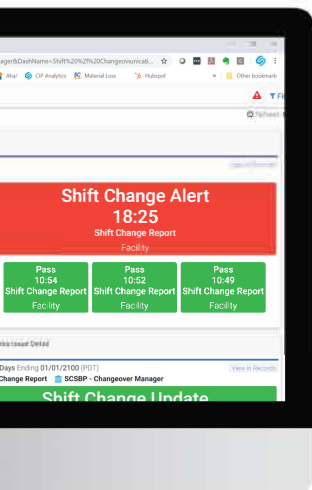

Personnel Screener

One of the biggest risks facing production facilities is keeping essential workers healthy. They're responsible for adhering to product safety standards and regulations, and ultimately, for keeping retail shelves stocked. The first step in that fight is screening for symptoms of infection before shifts. While it sounds easy on the surface, keeping track of people and health data can be a challenge.

At a glance:

- Safely submit forms on any device from anywhere
- Custom COVID-19 screening questions
- Real-time screening reports for all facilities
- Complete forms in online/offline mode

Changeover Manager

Communicating information during a product or shift change is critical. During changeover, teams must ensure their site is properly cleaned, setup is complete and ready for the next run. Physical distancing requirements have made this collaboration difficult. With Changeover Manager, Operators, line leads, and supervisors who normally meet to discuss activities now have a better way to stay organized and keep production running smoothly.

At a glance:

- Safely share shift activities across teams
- Easily configure changeover forms for your facilities
- Minimize production delays due to miscommunication
- Improve restart times for shifts and lines

About SafetyChain

SafetyChain is the #1 Plant Management Platform that improves yield, maximizes productivity, and ensures compliance for manufacturers. Trusted by over 1,500 facilities, SafetyChain is the only complete solution for production (OEE & SPC), food safety and quality (QMS), and supplier compliance.

Get in touch

safetychain.com

info@safetychain.com

888 235 7540